Navy revises fraternization policy

The Navy's policy on fraternization has changed slightly. A revision of the instruction went into effect in late May after the Secretary of Defense ordered the services to review their policies and regulations and come up with a service-wide standard.

According to a Navy Judge Advocate General memorandum, the Navy only had to make minimal changes to its existing instruction. The few changes clarified the old instruction.

"Personal relationships between chief petty officers (E-7 to E-9) and junior personnel (E-1 to E-6), who are assigned to the same command, that are unduly familiar and that do not respect the differences in grade or rank are prohibited," reads paragraph 5b of the instruction.

The paragraph continues, "Likewise, personal relationships that are unduly familiar between staff/instructor and student personnel within Navy training commands, and between recruiters and recruits/applicants that do not respect differences in grade, rank, or the staff/student relationship are prohibited."

The last major revision to the policy prohibits gambling, borrowing money and any commercial solicitation between officers and enlisted members, regardless of service. Several minor changes were made to comply verbatim with the Secretary of Defense's direction including replacing the word "cohabitation" with "shared living accommodations."

Fraternization, the instruction states, is the term traditionally used to identify personal relationships that break the "customary bounds of acceptable senior-subordinate relationships." The instruction states the prohibition of fraternization is "valid" and "mission essential" as an "erosion of respect" for authority and for leadership positions could have an "enormously negative effect on good order and discipline" and could undermine a unit's effectiveness.

BASH program ensures safe flight for aircraft in and out of Rota

JO2 Jon Rosa

Today's Navy utilizes sophisticated equipment to ensure it's aircraft travel safely from one destination to another; mapping and tracking a plane's course, making sure flight paths don't cross and planes don't collide. But other aircraft aren't the only in-air hazard pilots must be concerned with.

From pigeons to geese, birds can be a pilot's worst enemy. In September 1995 a U.S. Air Force AWACS aircraft hit a flock of geese during take off at Elmendorf AFB, Alaska, disabling three of the aircraft's four engines. The modified Boeing 707 crashed one mile from the runway killing 24 Airman.

Soon after the accident the military actively began a campaign to prevent such tragedies with the Bird Aircraft Strike Hazard (BASH) program.

BASH focuses on habitat management and helps control elements that draw birds to airfields, said Richard Dolbeer, research biologist for the U.S. Department of Agriculture and chairperson of the Bird Strike Committee, USA.

At Naval Station, Rota, Spain, the program is of significant importance. "Rota is in a unique situation because we are about 20 miles south of the biggest national preserve of Europe [El Coto de Doñana]," said Lt. Matt Corey, Naval Station aviation safety officer. "Additionally [El Coto de Doñana] has a lot of swamp land that attracts numerous birds."

"We have a significant problem when planes take off because of the bird activity around here," said Corey. Eighty percent of migrating birds from Africa come through the Rota area in the migratory season of October through March, added Corey.

"If you hit a bird, 90 percent of the time all you have to do is go out and clean the guts off the plane, but it's that other 10 percent of the

Rota shows patriotism during 4th of July show

Rota celebrated its annual 4th of July festival over the weekend. An estimated 10,000 people visited the base fairgrounds for the event.

A parade, various command casetas, fireworks, live entertainment, numerous rides and sporting events were held to celebrate America's birthday.

The four-day event was organized by the base Chief Petty Officer's Association with the help of many volunteers, command and community organizations and community sponsors. See the Coastline special 4th of July photo coverage on page 11.

Captain's Corner

Capt. G.K. Stair, Jr.

Throughout my tour, I have been thoroughly impressed with the diligence I see demonstrated daily throughout the Naval Station, and in the spirit that leads to events such as the 4th of July Celebration we had this past weekend. From the opening day parade and NSWU-10's parachute jump, to the casetas, entertainment and our 4th of July dinner, it was an outstanding weekend of celebration, hospitality, and great food. Many people were impressed not only with the opportunity for fiesta, but also with the community spirit, participation, and hard work that went into this event.

None of this is possible without someone willing to step forward and take the lead.

I particularly want to thank Chief Batten from VQ-2, our Fourth of July Committee Chairman, and Petty Officer Ellis from NLSO, our co-Chairman, who together did a fantastic job organizing this event.

I also want to thank the Chief Petty Officer's Association, who spearhead this event every year; our Public Works Department, who prepared and greatly improved the "feria" grounds; our security and ASF personnel who were on patrol throughout the weekend; the galley staff, for the extensive preparation and outstanding banquet in honor of our area Spanish military and civilian leadership; and our many, many volunteers throughout the Naval Station who worked the entire weekend so that the rest of us could enjoy these festivities. You all deserve a big hand. It was a great event; thank you for a job well done.

For those who have not had the opportunity to read the CNO's recent NAVADMIN entitled "Navy Education Vision" for the 21st Century, ask your chain about it now. It was initially addressed during MCPON's visit earlier this year, and it articulates Navy policy for education throughout the ranks. It will take initiative and involvement on the part of leadership to make this work, but like training, it's the right focus, and the right thing to do. That is why we at the Naval Station are stressing educational opportunities, not only for professional but also for personal growth, and why we are working with the local universities to provide courses that mesh better with the work routine; and why we are looking at "flextime" for those occasions when they do not.

Finally, next week our new Commander, Fleet Air Mediterranean, Radm Tomaszewski, will visit, and see first hand our capabilities and what we do, and what support we need to accomplish the mission and support our people.

Know what your issues are, in case you have the opportunity to voice your opinion.

Dog days of summer near

The temperature is rising in Rota. According to AG1 James Gamble, a forecaster with the Navy European Meteorological and Oceanographic Command, July and August are traditionally the hottest months of the year in this region.

He said people here can expect a dry heat... and a wet, humid heat. "When the winds come from the East - South East, it can be humid and hot," Gamble said. "But when the winds come from the North East, it's very dry and very hot."

"It's pretty hot - be careful," said HMI Greg Nelson, from the Hospital's preventive medicine department. The hospital recommends people take a look at their activities, how accustomed they are to the heat and play it safe by listening to what their body tells them. Nelson also recommends

CNO announces new education vision

JOC Jon McMillan

Chief of Naval Operations, Adm. Jay Johnson, announced last week his Navy education vision for the next century. In an all-Navy message, Johnson said, "simply put, old paradigms governing continuing education are no longer sufficient to meet the challenges of the future."

"One of the benefits is that the CNO sees [off-duty education] as a value to the Navy," said Paul Wuori, director of Rota's Navy Campus. "If the CNO is interested in the program, there'll be a greater emphasis to see it work."

Wuori hopes the message will signal commands and departments that the CNO supports off-duty education and encourages departments to free up their people to take classes when operationally feasible.

He said Rota is making it easier for commands to do just that with some of the initiatives Capt. G. K. Stair, Jr., the naval station commander, has made.

"[He] wanted early morning classes available for people coming off the swing shift," said Wuori. Another initiative the base commander is pushing is giving the "okay" to departments to release people to attend classes.

These initiatives, Wuori said, are directly in-tune with the CNO's vision. "We told him [Capt. Stair] we'd need to find classrooms for the morning classes," said Wuori. "He said, 'I'll make it happen.'"

In addition to announcing his commitment to off-duty education, the CNO approved the implementation of the "Navy College Program" which should simplify and enhance the opportunity for Sailors and Marines to earn a college degree during their career.

"I'm anxious and waiting for the particulars of the program to see how we will implement it here and to see the benefit it'll have for our Sailors," said Wuori. A Navy Campus conference is set for mid-September and Wuori said the Navy College Program is a topic on the tentative schedule.

The program isn't finalized yet, but the CNO said in his vision that he wants young people to join the Navy to go to college "while serving their country" - not to get money to go to college after their service.

"This is a powerful notion," the CNO wrote, "one which will benefit the Sailor, the Navy, and the Nation."

Wuori agreed, "A lot of people don't realize that a better educated person normally means a better worker," he said. "Learning to think and analyze in the classroom helps them think and analyze on the job."

For the officer corps, the CNO is envisioning a series of programs to provide every unrestricted line, restricted line and staff officer the opportunity for relevant graduate degree and appropriate professional military education as a normal part of their career.

"New opportunities for officers, such as 'Tuition Assurance' - a program offering full tuition payment for selected career officers - and the 'Washington D.C. intern' program will be offered as early as this fall," said the CNO.

In addition, the CNO announced the Naval Postgraduate School will offer two new programs and the Naval War College will continue to expand its seminar and correspondence programs.

"The future demands a more highly educated Navy capable of operating within an environment of ever-increasing complexity," the CNO wrote. "We will meet that demand by providing increased opportunity for all Sailors to commit to life-long learning."

BRIEFS

Spanish First Class missing

A Spanish First Class Petty Officer is missing from the frigate Andalusia. The sailor was last seen two hours before he was scheduled to assume his watch. A search started when he didn't show up for watch. The frigate Andalusia was operating near Palma de Mallorca. It had sailed from Palermo to Cartagena with three other NATO ships.

Street dedicated to Tangier

The town of Rota named a new street "Comunidad de Tanger", (Community of Tangier). The new street will connect Principes de Espana Ave. and Diputacion Ave.

Felipe Benitez, acting Mayor of Rota, a congressman for Tangier, and the President of the craftsmanship of Tangier, attended the ceremony. Felipe Benitez said that after naming the street, the bonds of the friendship of the two towns will grow. The program Intereg II will interchange cultural and sporting events. Soon, Tangier will name one of their streets Rota.

Terrorist in the Navarra Parliament

Jose Luis Barrios has been elected to the Navarra Parliament. Barrios is an ETA terrorist who was found guilty of murdering a Seville councilman and his wife in January 1998. He was sentenced to a total of 60 years in prison for shooting the councilman and his wife in the neck.

Barrios took position of his seat in the Navarra Parliament last Friday. He spoke in "Euskera" (Basque language) and obeyed the Constitution for "Commanding Legal Manner". After he took his position in the parliament, he went back to prison.

The Government and the majority of the political parties want to do a "fast consensus vote" to make a legal reform to modify the present legislation and prevent another situation where a convicted terrorist can be elected to parliament.

Lawyer badly wounded

Jose E. Rodriguez Menendez, a high-profile lawyer, was badly wounded by two young men, last week in Madrid. Menendez, is a lawyer of some controversial cases in recent years. He defended some of the Colombian and Turkish drug dealers as well as ETA and GAL terrorists.

Menendez was arriving home with his Colombian wife and a bodyguard in his Mercedes when he was shot. The police said it appeared to be the work of professional killers. Two days later the police arrested seven people suspected of working the attempted assassination.

His wife, whom he married in July 98, was one of the seven arrested and has been charged with attempted murder. She was arrested in the hospital where she went to visit him. Prior to marrying Menendez, Laura Menendez was the girlfriend of a Colombian drug leader. According to her former boyfriend, she offered him 50 million pesetas to kill her husband.

The wife informed the judge at the first hearing that her former boyfriend acted out jealously as she left him to marry Menendez. The gang and the wife are in custody.

Summer heat wave hits Rota

people keep themselves hydrated.

It's simple, but important, advise. The Navy has an extensive heat stress program that outlines what Commanders and Navy leaders should ask of their troops when the weather gets hot like it will this summer in Spain.

A part of that program often heard of is the "Flag" system of warning people when it's too hot to perform strenuous outdoor activity. "There are five flags," said Lt.j.g. Lee Koerner, Environmental Health Officer for the Hospital. He said each level recommends limits commanders place on their troops to minimize the risk of heat injury. The flag condition is set by a series of tests that measure three different types of measurements and the combined to give what's called a WBGT index.

"It's mostly for people who do a lot of intense outdoor work," Koerner said. It's mostly used by Seabees, Public Works and the Marines he added.

For most people though, Koerner said the Navy flag warning system really doesn't mean too much. "Don't look at the flag. There's much more important things to look for like, are you in shape now? Are you hydrated? Are you on a good diet?" he said.

He said the best advice is really to know what your own limits are. Notice that the heat index is up, he said, but don't assume that just because it's a green or yellow flag that it's safe to exercise strenuously outdoors. "Everybody is different," he said. "Some people can get out do alright."

Contact the Naval Station Health Promotions department for details on heat stress and heat stroke.

Academic Skills Learning Center celebrates 1 year

Rota's Academic Skills Learning Center celebrated its one-year birthday of being open July 1. The occasion was celebrated with an open house at the Center.

Thirty people from various commands participated in course demonstrations and had cake and punch. EMCM(SS/AW) Allen McLain, Naval Station command master chief, performed the cake cutting ceremony. "The ASLC is an excellent opportunity for Sailors to practice taking tests and they will therefore do better on advancement exams," he said.

The Master Chief would like 50 percent of Rota Sailors who take advancement exams promoted. The ASLC, he said, can help the base reach that goal.

In the year the center has been open, it has helped over 180 active duty military members, adult family members and civilians attain professional, academic, and personal goals.

The ASLC offers interactive computer based courses in a variety of areas including work skills, English, math, science, CLEP, GED, ASVAB, SAT and ACT test preparation.

The center is located in Building 52 (PSD) near the snack bar and is open Monday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. The telephone number at the ASLC is ext. 3070.

Rota shuttle service survey

NAVSTA Rota is considering establishing a shuttle service to provide transportation throughout the base between 0630 and 1730(Mon-Fri.). Due to Navy regulations all operating costs would need to be recovered, so there would be a fee to ride the shuttle. A Process Action Team (PAT) has been formed to study whether or not it would be feasible to implement this shuttle service. To help determine the feasibility and potential ridership, we need your responses to the following questions:

1) If this shuttle were running how many times per week would you be likely to use it?

- a. never
- b. 1-2
- c. 3-5
- d. 6 or more

3) During what hours would you be likely to ride the shuttle? (mark all that supply)

- a. 0630-0830
- b. 0830-1030
- c. 1030-1330
- d. 1330-1530
- e. 1530-1730

2) What is the most you would be willing to pay(one-way) to ride the shuttle?

- a. 25 cents
- b. 50 cents
- c. 75 cents

Gym basketball court to close

The basketball court at the MWR gym here will close for five to six weeks for renovations beginning July 12.

Public Works department will replace 160 windows, repaint the ceiling, replace sections of the floor and re-varnish the court, said Paco Cavello, Public Works quality assurance evaluator. "We are making these renovations for safety reasons by repairing the deteriorating floor and replacing the old glass," said Cavello.

The $30,000 project was awarded to local contractor Newimar, said Cavello. While the project is scheduled for five to six weeks, Cavello said he expects the project will be completed sooner. MWR officials anticipate a completion date in mid August.

Cavello added there is a project in the works to repair the warped floors in the racquetball courts, but a contract has not yet been awarded.

These meetings are open to the public and attendance is encouraged. Even though the SAC does not function like a PTO, the SAC does provide a forum to get together to hear issues and share ideas to better our school. Please share your time and participate.

Elementary School Advisory Committee adds new members: Congratulations to Terri Fulton and Wayne Kulick, parent representatives and Beth Peris, Joyce Swett and Kathy Scroggins, teacher representatives. They will be serving on the SAC in the upcoming 1999/2000 school year.

Volunteer Support: We would like to express our sincere appreciation to the many volunteers that have been generous with their time and talents and have made positive contributions to the DGF community. You make a difference.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT

Bachelor Quarters: Our Combined Bachelor Housing renovation program looks very promising for next fiscal year...we've received commitments from the CNE staff for furniture funding for Barracks 31, 33 and 35. We are hoping Bldg. 31 will be renovated as a FY 98 swing project, and 33 and 35 in FY 2000. Renovations are ongoing in Buildings 32 and 34, with an expected completion date of Jan 2000. Additionally, work has commenced on a Gazebos between 568 and 569...and a Half Basketball Court is also under construction in the same area.

Galley: Effective 1 July 99, the Galley will be closed and unmanned after the evening meal. Personnel requiring box lunches should pick them up before 1800. Qualifying RIK personnel, assigned to evening shifts, will begin drawing a Partial Basic Allowance for Subsistence (BAS) on 1 July 99 for the evening meal at $3.38 per day. These RIK individuals will essentially be paid for one meal per day in their regular pay. They can then eat dinner at the NEX Air Terminal 24 Hour cafeteria, Video Mart Subway (until 2200), or some other meal of their choice. This arrangement allows the galley MS staffing to move from nights to days, reduces food service redundancy on base (fewer facilities are necessary at night), and is therefore more efficient to operate. Galley management are working with the Personnel Support Detachment (PSD) to ensure all eligible members are promptly paid. As new people report, they will request "Partial Comrats (BAS)" by request chit (similar to regular Comrats processing now in-place).

Gas Coupons: Effective 1 July 99, Supply personnel will begin managing the Gas Coupon program for the Navy Exchange. This cooperative support agreement will enable the NEX to begin selling Gas Coupons at cost price (about $40 per 100 Liters) effective 1 July 99. Start your engines for that Summer Vacation.

Uncle Sam's (Servemart) Closure: Uncle Sam's Club, our local office supply store, will be closed Wed 23 June until reopening 12 July. Uncle Sam's is being inventoried and moved from Building 160 into the Main Supply Warehouse (Building 55). This move will save us approximately $40,000 in utility costs on an annual basis.

Post Office Commodity Machine: Our post office machine in the Video Mart has not been working the past month. We are doing everything we can to restore service as soon as possible. We've ordered parts, several times, and our Public Works technicians are lending a hand.

DECA

Year 2000 Ready: The

commissary's systems were converted or programmed for the year 2000, on 14 June 1999.

First Sunday operation: For our first Sunday operation, the Commissary was busy non-stop from the time we opened until the time we closed.

HOUSING DEPARTMENT

New Housing Military Liaison: ACC Jane Twombly departed on 15 June. Her replacement is ABH1 Scott McCreery, formerly with the Air Operations department. The Housing Military Liaison can be reached at x1356.

Single Service Member Furnishings for off-base: The Housing Department is in the process of ordering furnishings for the single service member program. Furniture sets for single service members to use off-base during their full tour will be offered once we order and receive the new furnishings. If you have input for furniture items in the new program, please contact Michael Turner or ABH1 Scott McCreery at x2398 or email us housing4@navsta.rota.navy.mil.

Seaview Pines Park: Seaview

Pines Park has become a popular weekend spot for picnic goers in the summer months. Normally the Housing Department accepts reservations for the park, including Saturdays and Sundays. Due to the number of people using the park, including Spanish folks, we cannot guarantee reservations for the park at this time. If you'd like to use the park area for a function on the weekend, we recommend that you get there early to "reserve your spot." In the meantime, we will determine if the park should simply be open to the public on the weekends or whether a better reservation process can be applied.

Roof Replacement in Las Palmeras: The next phase of roof replacement in Las Palmeras (80 homes) should start during the month of June. The affected Las Palmeras residents have all been notified of the project via letter and informative meetings were held on 15 and 16 June to provide project information and answer questions. Your housing site manager (x4652) or the Housing Military Liaison (x1356)

can be contacted for further information

SECURITY

New Moped Licensing Law: 14 year old and above now require a moped driving license to operate mopeds. The new law affects 14 year olds and above who do not possess Spanish translation of driving license. There are two ways to apply. 1) Personally process paperwork and test (in Spanish) on own (Security - Bldg 52 can assist with processing of paperwork but not written exam). 2) Attend a certified driving school - driving school processes all paperwork and administrates test.

Traffic Pattern Outside Rota Gate: Commonly applied European standard effective. Unless otherwise directed by sign and or law enforcement, always yield to traffic to your right.

There is no "law" or regulation governing the use of jogging-type push strollers. So, push strollers, designed for jogging, are authorized to be used on base. Strollers CANNOT be attached to the back of bicycles. This even applies to the strollers specifically designed for bicycles.

Question and Answer

Q: Why is it that no one is responding quickly to trouble calls.

A: Contact Patty at NEX Admin.

Q: When will new uniforms be in?

A: New uniforms are due to arrive in October.

Q: Frozen goods are being pulled off shelves 1 hour prior to the Commissary closing.

A: Frozen goods are supposed to be available to closing, I will ensure my employees know this.

Victory Villa and USS Inchon Sailors join

Nine Sailors from USS Inchon volunteered their time last week to provide maintenance and clean-up services to Victory Villa in Rota.

The crew helped wire new lighting, paint some of the rooms and do general clean-up on the facility that's been dubbed a 'Christian hospitality house.' "The Sailors did some good work and they had great attitudes," said Bill

Sawyer, interim director of Victory Villa.

Victory Villa has been in operation in Rota since 1975, and is "a place for servicemen to drop in and hang out," according to Sawyer, who temporarily directs the center with his wife until the permanent director arrives.

"It's basically a Christian USO, providing a place as much like home." The non-denominational center is open to everyone and works closely with the base chapel. It's located just outside the Rota gate near the end of Taxi Road. Call 956-81-0226 for information on Victory Villa.

Rota utilizes BASH program

time that create's a really big problem," said Corey.

"If you have a goose that weighs 15 pounds and you hit it going 400 miles an hour, you going to have some serious damage."

Corey added the danger to pilots can be severe and recalled a bird strike while in a training command.

"A friend of mine was flying a night flight at about 170 knots and hit a seagull. It came right through the canopy and hit him right in the face.

"If he didn't have his visor down that night it could have killed him." Even with the visor down, Corey said the pilot was temporarily knocked unconscious and lost his two front teeth.

The most significant and effective tool Rota uses to combat the bird problem is a falconer. The Spanish Navy has hired a full-time falconer to help keep Rota's bird population away from the airfield, said Corey.

The predator falcon stands guard in the air, while no flight operations are taking place, and scares off birds on the airfield. Because falcons are such fierce predators, they often kill unsuspecting birds that wonder over the airfield. Corey said other birds see the falcon and instinctively clear the area.

The falconer began working the airfield in Rota about two and half years ago. Corey said they are looking into hiring a second full-time falconer to cover the airfield better.

"Falconry is a useful part of an integrated BASH program," said Dolbeer, and added habitat management is the key element to the program. "Birds are drawn to airfields for three reasons: food, water and shelter. If you can eliminate one or more of those elements the bird population will decrease."

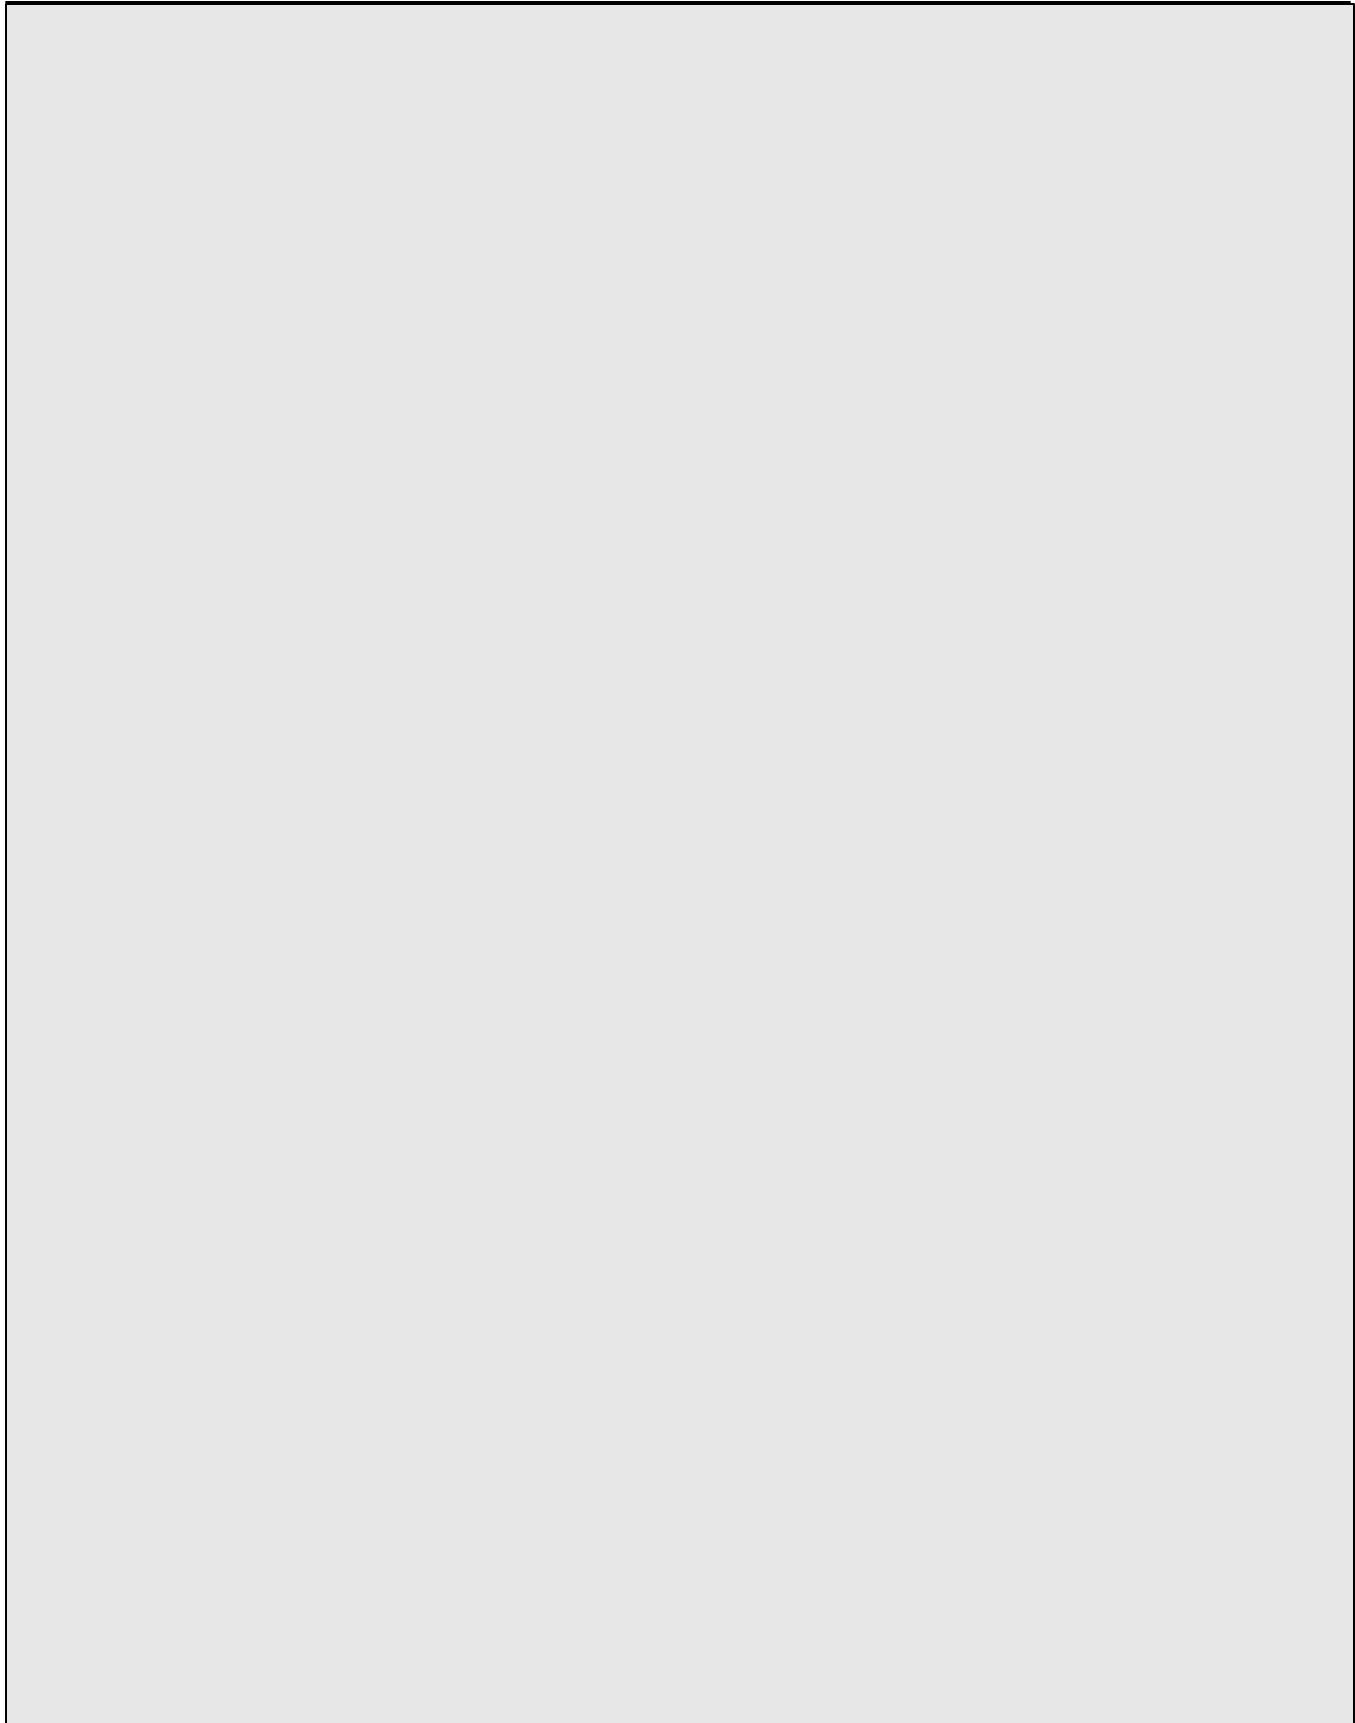

More than 25,000 bird strikes were reported between 1988 and 1992 and are a $100 mil. per year problem for the military. Corey said he believes that number may be low because many bird strikes go unreported.

In December 1994, Naval Station, Rota, encountered five bird strikes, four of which caused more than $257,000 damage to the aircraft, said Corey.

Last year, Naval Station had 14 reported bird strikes. This year, Naval Station has already had 10 bird strikes.

PARENT CONNECTION

Question:

Today my four-year old said "Mommy, you are always busy." He may be right. I have a difficult time balancing the time I spend on housework and playing with my children.

Answer:

1. Make housework a game so that the child can help i.e.: put the dishes away, clean up the room, etc. You could make a deal where if the child plays alone for 20 minutes, you will take a break and play a game with him or her. This can be done in cycles throughout the day.

2. Leave the dust bunnies and take the kids to the park. If someone stops by say, "We were busy playing today." You can also save time by vacuuming your tile floors instead of sweeping them.

3. Some housework chores don't need to be done when you think they do. Also, small children love to help. Give them a rag and they will dust too. My son loves to help hold the vacuum or mop when I am using them. This gets your housework done and you spend time with them as well.

NEXT MONTH'S QUESTION:

Since my child was born, I've tried to give her the best nutritionally. Now that she's eating solids, I'm finding it hard to think of easy and nutritious snacks, preferably ones she can eat on the go, with her hands.

If you have questions or solutions to questions from this column, please submit them to the NFSC: in person; through guard mail at PSC 819 Box 57, FPO AE 09645, attention NPST; e-mailing: nfsc02@navsta.rota.navy.mil; or through FAX number 1709. NFSC DOES NOT endorse recommendations submitted by readers. The parent responses are suggestions passed on to you. They are screened by the NPST to reflect current Navy and Federal guidelines. It is the responsibility of parents to determine what is appropriate for their own child.

With two boys in baseball I spend a lot of time at the ballpark watching games and attending practice. And you know baseball is a great teacher. You can learn a lot of lessons for life by playing Little League.

For example, you're at bat. You hit the ball and it dribbles to the pitcher. You're out, right?

Wrong! The pitcher fumbles the ball. By the time he picks it up and throws it to the first baseman, you've tagged the base. You're safe if you ran with all your might, didn't lose heart, and didn't give up. And yet, how often have I seen players thrown out under just those circumstances. They quit too soon. They saw the ball roll to the pitcher. They assumed the pitcher would make the play. They didn't give their best and lost the race.

I've seen it happen in life. A lot of people quit too soon. They think they're beaten and as a consequence, they are. That's why the Bible urges a spirit of perseverance. Hebrews 12:1 says, "Let us throw off everything that hinders and...let us run with perseverance the race marked out for us."

It's never over till it's over. Put your head down and run! You'll win more often if you do. God's blessing.

Last week, Pentagon Car Sales (your local Saab and BMW dealer), advertised their sponsorship of the 1st Annual Golf Tournament to be held at Costa Ballena Golf on July 16th. The purpose of this tournament is to select eight team members to compete in the "Corporate Golf Challenge". Playoffs for that tournament start September. The first round for the Andalusian region will be held at El Real de Sevilla. If the team wins Spain's final, all expenses will be covered to participate in the Corporate Golf Challenge World Final. This is one of the biggest, if not the biggest, amateur golf tournaments in the world. Twenty-five countries compete with over 125,000 players. Some of the requirements are: at least one of the team's members must be an employee of the company, the rest can be clients, partners or friends; a handicap not higher than 28; the company must be registered in Spain. The "Corporate Golf Challenge" gets world wide media coverage i.e. The Times, The Australian, Newsweek, Sky, NBC, CNB and Star among others. The following are some of the things Pentagon Car Sales will provide for the July 16th tournament in La Ballena: trophies for the top three finishers, certificates for the 4th through 7th position, door prizes ($25 gift certificates, polo shirts, etc.), $100 prize for the longest drive in the fairway, $100 prize for the longest put, $100 prize for the best approach and a special prize for a hole in one, at the 13th hole, a par 3. To register you can stop by the Base Pro-Shop or the Pentagon Car Sales office in Rota.

This week we have an ad for the B.B. King concert tickets. You can get them at the Irish bar Ri Ra located on Avenida Bajamar, 14 in Puerto. I know a lot of you are already familiar with that bar, but for those who aren't, it is not too far from where the boat that goes to Cádiz docks, right across from the pay parking lot and next to the restaurant Guadalete. Also, if you have never been to Ri Ra, get acquainted. The bar is neat and has some real atmosphere and best of all the owner/manager Brian will greet you with a big smile!

Tomorrow is the last day to turn in paintings at the Casino and be eligible to participate in their 20th Anniversary Painting Contest. Tonight there is a flamenco show at 10 p.m. The entrance fee is 1,500 pts. and includes one drink. Tonight, tomorrow and Saturday, the gastronomic evenings continue with the restaurant "José Vicente" from Aracena. Last week, after getting a look at the menu, I couldn't resist so my husband and I went with a couple friends. The dinner was fantastic...everything was very good. If this is an indication of the future gastronomic evenings, it is a must for everyone who likes to try good food. Keep it in mind if you have guests visiting from out of town on the weekend, if you have something to celebrate or simply because you enjoy good food. It is sure to be a memorable meal and the atmosphere is comfortable and pleasant as well. These special dinners are going to continue every Thursday, Friday and Saturday during July and August. I recommend getting reservations, just to be on the safe side.

Summer sales have started in most stores. Now is your chance!

El Paseo Mall is currently offering you the chance to get closer to the mysterious world of insects. There are exotic butterflies, spiders, beetles...from all the continents on exhibit in glass cases throughout the mall. The exhibit uerto at the municipal pool located on Valdés, a couple of streets up from Avenida Bajamar. It's the City of El Puerto trophy and it starts at 10 a.m. There will be competitions in the evening as well.

Correction! Ed's Place on Avenida San Fernando, near Plaza Costilla, does not close Wednesdays. They are now open every day.
